

Introduction

Book: A People's History of the United States

Author: Howard Zinn

Write an academic assignment which needs has the Overview of early American history from the perspective of indigenous people and marginalized groups from the book A People's History of the United States written by Howard Zinn and solely focused on the topic Introduction to Native America by Dr. Martin Gilbert, and on a more specific set of examples, such as the early colonial and American Revolution. This book will make the connection between indigenous and non-indigenous things in the American narrative and will make informed judgments in terms of how we relate to our Native nations and their people. Please remember to check out the following link. I wanted to share this work with fellow students who might not have access to any other resources or resources that address the topic of this book. I'd like to extend your appreciation to Dr. Gilbert's work on the Civil Rights movement and his writings on the Black Panthers and Black Liberation. I hope you will enjoy this new book as much as I did. Dr. Gilbert
